Revive Partners with Community Hospital 100

Revive (www.revivepr.com), a national health care PR and marketing firm, is partnering with Community Hospital 100, a national network of community hospital leadership, to exchange knowledge, insights and best practices about how community hospitals can remain integral to the health of their communities in the context of new models of care.

Revive will join the Community Hospital 100 leadership this fall for its annual Executive Management Conference being held October 14--16, 2012 in Tucson, Arizona.

"Community Hospital 100 provides a unique learning environment to address how C-level executives at community hospitals across the country are planning for upcoming health reform challenges," said Brandon Edwards, president and founder of Revive. "We have our own unique insights to share to help community hospitals be successful, which is why we've chosen to join and support this effort."
